

Santa and Me

I know it is Christmas time because people are putting up their Christmas trees.

I like Christmas but I do not like Santa, but that is OK. When I see Santa in a shop or on the street, I can look the other way and walk by.

The other children in my class all like Santa and that is OK too. When Santa comes into school, my classroom assistant, will take me to do some different jobs while the other children talk to him.

I am happy for Santa to leave me a present, but I do not want to talk to him or see him.

When my friends talk about Santa, I will not get angry, but I will tell them I do not like him.

I can tell my mummy and daddy what I want for Christmas and they will let Santa know.

Santa can come to my house on Christmas Eve, that is OK because I will be fast asleep and not see or hear him.

Thank you to Angela Storey, Alder Class Teacher and SENCo at Richard Coates C of E School, for this Christmas social story
